FOR THE HALL

Nothing as handsome and elegant as our Racks can be found anywhere in the city. The hall is the first room you see in a house, and first sight and first impressions ought to be pleasing and inviting. One of our superb Hall Racks is a feast to the eye—an ornament to any house, as well as in the highest degree convenient and useful. A hall without a Rack is almost as badly off as a house without a hall. There's plenty of room for choice here, as we show fifty different styles at from $3.50 to $50.00 each. Carloads of new Furniture arriving every week. For Fall, come and look us over.

THE OLDEST FREE MASON.

W. W. Lee of Meriden Writes a Letter About the Matter.

The following from William Wallace Lee of Meriden appeared in a recent issue of the New York Tribune, addressed to the editor:

Sir—On the twelfth page of your issue of last Thursday (August 29) is an article written from Ogdensburg, N. Y., asserting that Joel Houghton is the oldest Mason, etc. On Friday, August 23, I had a personal interview with George Blakeman in Derby, Conn. He was made a Mason, as the lodge records show, November 13, 1820, in King Hiram lodge, No. 12, of Derby, Conn. a Royal Arch Mason in 1822, and master of his lodge in 1827. He has always been in continuous membership, and will be ninety-six years old October 10. He is well and hearty for his years. In his young manhood he was thought to be marked for a short life, and was considered rather frail. Nearly fifty years ago he was a member of the house of the legislature of Connecticut. He has taken very little medicine in his life; has never used tobacco or liquor or voted the democratic ticket.

I do not claim that his long life is owing to the facts I have stated, but everyone can draw his own inference. I do not say that he is the oldest Mason living. I have known several instances where Masons, in making such a claim, have "bit off more than they could chew."

A few years since (December 7, 1881) Israel Coe died in Waterbury, Conn., ninety-seven years old. He had been seventy-six years, and more, a Mason. We have on our roll of veterans four besides George Blakeman, the youngest of whom has been a Mason for sixty-seven years.

SONS OF VETERANS.

At last Saturday's session of the national convention, Sons of War Veterans, held in this city, the following officers were elected: Commander-in-chief, T. D. Rivers of New York city; first deputy commander, D. S. Taylor of Ohio; second deputy commander, E. A. Witt of Boston; chaplain-in-chief, H. E. Mezeolous of this city; trustees, Charles J. Barbour of Springfield, J. E. Hart of this city and Lewis R. Goff.

The following officers were appointed by the commander-in-chief, Adjutant General DeWitt C. Hough of New York, Quartermaster General J. H. Holtman of New York, Surgeon General W. C. Newcomb of Bridgeport, and Inspector General J. J. Herve of New Haven, Chief Muster Officer Charles J. Barbour of Springfield, Mass., Judge Advocate E. S. Fancher of New Haven, Chief of Staff W. Langschultz of New York.

Julius Morgan and P. J. Haverland of this city complimented the order on the start of what ought to be a successful career. "The works of the year were reported on by the delegates and all were satisfied with the prospect for the future."

At the meeting in the afternoon the officers were installed for the ensuing year.

Next year's convention will be held in New York city during the latter part of August.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Death of Peter Corry.

Peter Corry, for many years of the shipping department of Stoddard, Kimberly & Co., and a highly valued employee, died at his home, 56 Mansfield street, Saturday morning from the effects of a throat trouble from which he had been suffering intensely for the last six weeks. He was attended by Drs. Swain and Whittemore. The deceased was one of the oldest members of St. Mary's church and an active worker, having been secretary of the corporation of the church, treasurer of St. Vincent de Paul society and also treasurer of the Holy Name society. He was born in Kildare, Ireland, and came to this country over fifty years ago. He was about seventy years old, and leaves a wife and one daughter, Mary. The funeral will be held at St. Mary's church to-day.

FOUND DYING IN THE STREET.

Harry M. Coleman, colored, a teamster residing at 14 Winter street, died at the hospital from the effects of heart disease at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. He was picked up in an alleyway off Fair street and Dr. Park attended him at police headquarters and pronounced him suffering from heart disease.

COURT RECORD.

City Court—Criminal Side—Judge Cable.

John N. Augur, non-support, continued to November 1; Thomas Kelleher, resistance, $2 fine, $6.24 costs; Thomas Lyons, theft, continued to September 18; Giuseppe Riccio, breach of the peace, judgment suspended; Nicolo Pestico, same, $7 fine, $8.22 costs; same, carrying concealed weapons, judgment suspended; John J. Keating, breach of the peace, $3 fine, $7.58 costs, appealed.

Court Notes.

A NOTABLE SUIT.

The suit of the Thomson & Houston company against the Winchester avenue street railroad has been decided by Judge Townsend, but the decision will not be announced for a few days, at least, as the judge is out of town. After the decision has been made known it will be appealed to the United States supreme court, no matter which side wins. The suit is brought by the Thomson-Houston company for the purpose of establishing their claim on a several important patents. The suit is a friendly one, inasmuch as the Winchester avenue corporation is a part of the syndicate in which the Thomson & Houston company are interested. The railway exhibit in miniature, used as an object lesson, has been removed from the United States court room.

At the Y. M. C. A.

Captain White and Lieutenant of the Salvation army addressed the meeting of the Young Men's Christian association at the rooms, 718 Chapel street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

CATHOLICS AT THE CAPITOL.

Washington to be the Head Center of Their Faith in This Country.

The first week in October will witness a gathering in Washington that marks the most important epoch that Catholic educational interests in this country have ever known, says a Washington correspondent of the Boston Sunday Herald. During this week the largest Eucharistic congress ever held in the United States will be convened in the new St. Matthew's church. This body is composed entirely of clergymen, and will be attended by the majority of bishops and archbishops of the Catholic church in America. It is a religious and not an educational body, but it is the first of a series of great meetings that will hereafter mark Washington as the center of the Catholic educational and religious interests of the United States.

The day before the congress convenes the McMahon Hall of Philosophy will be dedicated at the Catholic university at Eckington (of which Professor W. C. Robinson of New Haven will be one of the faculty). This hall, which cost $400,000, is the gift of Father McMahon, the richest clergyman of the Catholic church. It is the second of the great buildings of the university to be completed, and will be open to clergymen and laymen alike. But of greater significance than this is the grouping about the university proper of the schools conducted by the various orders of the Catholic clergy. It is the intention of those connected with the university to have ultimately established in connection with each of these orders. Already the Paulists and the Marists have established their houses of study near the university, and the Fathers of the Holy Cross are prepared to establish a similar school in October.

It is understood that as the different orders establish themselves here, the provincials or superiors of the orders will take up their residence here. Thus, in course of time, all the heads of the various orders of the Catholic church will be brought into close communication with each other, and Washington will become the center of Catholicism in America.

This supposition is borne out in the case of the Paulists and Marists, for Rev. Augustine Hewitt, C. S. P., superior of the Paulist order in the United States, and Rev. B. Forister, the superior of the Marists, have taken up their residence at the houses of their respective orders here.

AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

To Raise Funds to Pay for Recent Improvements.

At a meeting of the parishioners of St. Mary's R. C. church yesterday afternoon it was decided to hold a fair. The object of the fair is to be the raising of funds with which to pay for the recent improvements in the church. At the meeting yesterday the following executive committee was appointed:

Thomas W. Corbett, chairman; John Gallagher, Edward Swayne, John Cronin, James T. Suig, James Cosgrove, T. Coffey, John Coleman, James B. Martin, John Hanley, Eugene Sullivan and Anthony Spang.

The committee was empowered to proceed with arrangements and to add to their number. The management of the entire matter was placed in their hands and the matter will be pushed rapidly.

San Antonio Lodge Celebrate.

The Italian society, San Antonio, had baptized two very beautiful and costly silk flags at St. Michael's church yesterday afternoon, one being the American and the other their national flag. After the ceremonies were concluded the society, accompanied by Lombardi's band, marched to their rooms on Church street, where refreshments were served and a concert held.
